

Positive Behaviour Management Pro Training (PBMpro)

PBMpro is more than a physical intervention package. Its implementation, particularly when used to dovetail with Positive Behaviour Support, will help transform your organisation's approach towards reducing restrictive practices.

The key benefits of using our PBMpro training include:

- Security: our PBMpro training is Bild-certified and fully compliant with the Restraint Reduction Network Training Standards
- Safety: PBMpro does NOT use pain-based physical interventions and all techniques are biomechanically risk assessed
- Reassurance: for staff and stakeholders that your training is provided by a reputable, experienced provider

PBMpro is an ethical, research-based training programme focused on cultural change and imbued with a commitment to respect for vulnerable people being supported. It is well established, respected and has evolved in line with developments in the sector. It began as, and remains, a pioneering method which rejects the use of punishment and the use of pain-based physical intervention techniques.

PBMpro has been a powerful influence in shaping staff attitudes and improving the quality of life for vulnerable people in services who are at risk of restrictive practice. We take pride in training staff to the highest possible standards without cutting corners.

PBMpro provides:

- Full range of proactive approaches
- Non-physical reactive options
- Pain-free reactive physical interventions including:
 - Self-protection and breakaway techniques
 - Low level removals
 - Removal holds for high distress or dangerous situations
 - Clinical holding techniques
 - Bespoke techniques for a range of challenging scenarios
 - Pod-based holding techniques

About us

Positive Response Training & Consultancy was established in 1999 to provide training and expert consultancy to services supporting people who exhibit behaviours of concern. We work exclusively within the education, health and social care sectors and our training is based on extensive experience of working with, and delivering to, these sectors. Positive Response delivers all its training through a Positive Behavioural Support (PBS) framework.

The company was founded by Dr David Allen. With many years' experience working in the NHS as a clinician, manager, trainer, academic and an international reputation in the field of PBS, his contribution was acknowledged by a leadership award from BILD in 2012. David held honorary personal chairs at the University of Glamorgan, Cardiff University, and the Tizard Centre, University of Kent, and is a Fellow of both the British Psychological Society and the International Association for the Scientific Study of Intellectual Disability. David retired from Positive Response at the end of 2021 and is succeeded by a new director of training services, Mark Hilley.

Our mission is to deliver person-centred, ethical and effective approaches to the prevention and safe management of behaviours of concern. Working in partnership with you, we strive to improve the quality of life of people being supported as well as carers by reducing the use of restrictive practices.

PBMpro addresses all parts of a PBS plan:

- Primary prevention: identifying and proactively addressing risk factors in relation to behaviours of concern.
- Secondary prevention: changing the course of already triggered behavioural episodes through prompt intervention.
- Reactive strategies: ethical and safe approaches to behaviours of concern which may not be preventable and require physical intervention.

PBMpro has multiple options

PBMpro training is available in England, Scotland, Wales, Northern Ireland and Europe for the following services:

- Adults with learning disabilities or autism
- Children & young people
- Adults with acquired brain injury
- Adults with mental health conditions
- Older people with dementia

PBMpro care staff training options

We offer Bild-certified and non-certified care staff training depending on the needs of your organisation. All courses have an annual refresher.

- PBMpro Bild-certified foundation course
The one-day Bild-certified foundation course is suitable for staff working in verifiably low risk services. Training includes introductory information on proactive approaches plus a small selection of non-restrictive self-defence techniques.
- PBMpro non-certified 2-day theory & breakaways course
The 2-day non-certified course provides 1.5 days of theory followed by a half day to cover breakaway techniques. Certified training is not mandatory if restrictive techniques are not being used so this option provides a shorter course option whilst retaining the same high quality as our certified courses.
- PBMpro Bild-certified 2.5 day theory & breakaways course
The 2.5-day Bild-certified course provides 2 days of theory to meet the requirements of the RRN Training Standards followed by half a day to cover breakaway techniques. Whilst certified training is not mandatory if restrictive techniques are not being used, this option means staff could add restrictive techniques at a later stage if required and is also useful if you prefer all staff to cover the same theory package for consistency.
- PBMpro Bild-certified 3-day theory, breakaways & restrictive techniques course
The 3-day Bild-certified course provides 2 days of theory to meet the requirements of the RRN Training Standards followed by half a day to cover breakaway techniques and half a day to cover restrictive techniques.

Our course fees include all administration, materials and travel/accommodation costs for trainers. We charge per group and the rate depends on your group size. If you are new to our training, we would be happy to discuss an introductory discount so you can experience the difference for yourself. Care staff course prices start at £70 per delegate per day before discounts (ex-VAT).

PBMpro train-the-trainer course

Organisations can opt to become an affiliate and train their own associate (in-house) trainers on our train-the-trainer course. The course consists of nine days in three blocks with approximately two weeks practice time between each block (5 + 2 + 2 days). Once delegates have completed the course, they will have free use of our materials to train unlimited numbers of care staff within your organisation. The annual trainer refresher is one day.

There are discounts for 3 or more places. Please note: we only charge for delegates to attend the train-the-trainer course and for additional programmes/techniques, if required. We do not charge for internal care staff courses subsequently delivered by your trainers. Affiliate organisations need to be registered with Bild for which there is an annual fee of £500 plus VAT.

PBMpro is delivered by a highly qualified team

The PBMpro training team is led by Mark Hilley. He has over 25 years' experience working in the field of learning disabilities and autistic spectrum disorders as a senior manager and trainer. He has been training the PBMpro model for over 20 years.

Positive Response has trainers across the country who deliver PBMpro for us. Many of these trainers hold managerial posts within their primary employment and possess a vast wealth of practical experience in services and in delivering the training – both for Positive Response and within their primary employment.

PBMpro training is highly interactive and uses a variety of learning styles. Trainers are experienced at supporting learners with a variety of educational needs. Over the last 30 years our training has been delivered to many thousands care staff across the UK and Europe. Feedback from training is always overwhelmingly positive.
